ADAMUS® SAINT-GERMAIN

Shoud 6

IMPORTANT NOTE: This information is probably not for you unless you take full responsibility for your life and creations.

I Am that I Am, Adamus of St. Germain.

Hm. A lot of energy, a lot of things shifting and changing, as we came into this Shoud, as the music played (referring to this music). It wasn't my St. Germain music, but it'll do for today, because it let the energies really ride on something. A lot going on.

This Shoud is going to be a little bit different than most, because what we're going to talk about today is so important to all of you.

Let's take another good deep breath, as we get into Shoud 6 of Merlin I Am.

First things first, welcome everybody. Welcome from all around this great planet Earth. Welcome to this gathering we do once a month of Shaumbra, a gathering that allows us to bring our energies together. We don't need to meet in person. I know sometimes that you like to meet in person, but we don't need to. We can do it like this. We do it on a regular basis in dream state, and we do it like this over your Internet.

So, welcome everybody. Oh, yes, indeed I do love the live personal gatherings. We just had one here as Cauldre and Linda talked about. It was good to be back in my true role as Adamus, walking amongst you, going back and forth, up and down the aisles, asking a lot of questions to each and every one of you. I enjoyed that, and I do deeply miss that from our Shouds. And I can only pick on Linda to a certain extent in this, but, yes, welcome.

Here we are in Kona at Villa Ahmyo. Beautiful day. Birds chirping as the music was playing. You couldn't hear it, but the birds were just rattling away as they were getting ready for this gathering.

A couple of things on today's schedule. We'll get the small stuff out of the way first.

Adamina

So, the question came up in our last discussion where I talked about what did I look like as St. Germain in my last lifetime. The question came up with many of you. First of all, had I not had any lifetimes as a woman? Yes, I had. Not a lot. Many more of them the male lifetimes. Not for any particular reason, but, you know, you find when you get comfortable in a certain kind of a clothing, you get used to it, and that's why so many people come back lifetime after lifetime in the same family, in the same lineage, oftentimes even in the same country and sometimes even the same city, lifetime after lifetime. So, it wasn't anything to do other than I was just comfortable in the male body. I never was quite as comfortable in the feminine physical body, but I have to say that my balance of masculine and feminine has always been quite good.

But for those of you still rattling about masculine and feminine and men and women, let's go beyond that. It's really not about that at all. Let's go far beyond that. It's not about the divine feminine or the whatever masculine. We're integrated. We're one. You've got masculine and feminine. They've married together. You are uni-self at this point. Let's not rattle a lot of noise about masculine and feminine and equality and everything else. You are equal in yourself, no matter what. Equal in everything within you.

But the question did come up and I promised I'd answer. What would I look like? What would I look like not as Adamus, but Adamina? What would I look like? So, let's take a quick look.

LINDA: Oh, boy.

ADAMUS: This is not me, of course. This is Madame Blavatsky. Not. St. Germain. No, I would have never looked like that.

Now, I truly love Madame Blavatsky. She was one of the most insightful, deeply spiritual, deeply personal people I've ever met. Gruff on the exterior. Gruff. She smoked it's said to be 200 cigarettes a day. She drank like a sailor at times. Gruff on the outside.

Now, her excuse for all this was that she was so attractive on the inside ...

LINDA: Ohhh!

ADAMUS: ... that she didn't want to appear attractive ...

LINDA: Ohhhh!

ADAMUS: ... on the outside as well.

LINDA: Interesting.

ADAMUS: Kuthumi did try to give her some fashion tips from time to time, which she immediately ignored. But move on to another shot of her, Madame Blavatsky. This is when she was a teenager, 15 years old. You see, the looks kind of were with her from youth and carried on much, much longer into life. Yes. And those birds you see in the background here, they're flying away as fast as they can. She had a habit of scaring people and she loved to do it.

So, there's a reason that she had that particular look, a reason that, well, some of you might understand, because she came from an ancestry that she chose, and if you take a look at a picture of her mother, you would understand why Blavatsky looked the way she did. So let's take a look now at ...

LINDA: Oh, no!!

ADAMUS: ... Blavatsky's mother (Adamus chuckles).

LINDA: Oof!

ADAMUS: Yes, quite a character. It really ran in the family. Fortunately, Blavatsky never dressed quite like this. She kept a little bit more covered up than her mother did. But this would explain a lot. And I hope you all know this is tongue-in-cheek. So, moving on.

Now, I had good looks in my lifetime as St. Germain. I was rather dashing, as you probably noted in some of the photos we showed in our last session. There's a good reason for this. I had a beautiful mother. I worked with Cauldrelate last night looking at some graphics, some photographs that would help show what my mother would look like, and I couldn't fix on just one. So, it was really kind of a combination. We picked two, and if you can imagine putting this together, if you melded these two photographs, these two humans, that's pretty much what my mother looked like, which would explain my looks. I couldn't find anything that was befitting of what my father looked like, but he was a handsome and dignified, noble man as well.

So, the question goes, "What would I have looked like, for instance, in the biblical times? What would I have looked like?" It was something like this. Yeah, in the biblical times, a beautiful dress, and note that I can read. I'm reading a document, which was unheard of for most women at that time. But this is probably what I would have looked like.

And as we move forward a little bit, what would I have looked like in my lifetime as St. Germain if I was St. Germina? I would have looked something like this. Beautiful, striking, well-dressed, of course, with one of my breasts hanging out. But that's what (chuckling) – if you look carefully, yes, you can see it – so that's probably what I would have looked like and probably what I acted like.

Now, if we could go to, let's say, the 1900s, 1940, '30, '40 era, what would I have looked like? Probably something like this. Something like that. And then, of course, again, I have to say that this wasn't Cauldre putting this together. I guided him through hundreds, if not thousands of photographs last night.

And then if I were incarnate today and if I was a woman today, I'm sure, without a doubt, that I would look like this. Kind of fitting, isn't it?

And I can assure you it would not be like this. No.

LINDA: Ugh!

ADAMUS: That's, once again, Blavatsky. No, I don't think I would choose that. She basically had to wear carpets to cover herself (Adamus chuckles), but a wonderful woman, indeed. Deep, insightful, she made a huge impact on the world, but the looks weren't quite there. And you would have to say, dear Linda, she chose that on purpose. It was her choice. It wasn't just something that happened at birth, it was her choice. So, a quick look at Adamus as Adamina.

A World in Change

So now that that's out of the way, let's take a good deep breath, as we shift into the real business of this Shoud. Let's take a look at what's happening in the world right now. What's happening in the world.

We've gone through a very important era, time change. It started just barely over a year ago, the whole era of the coronavirus, and you know from living through it. It'll be something you talk to the Ascended Masters about at some point. But, you know, living through it and going through the face masks, the social distancing, the lack of being social, the lack of just saying, "Let's go out to a restaurant tonight" or going to the theater. It's a different life.

This last year had a profound impact on the consciousness of humanity, not necessarily the actions at this point, but the consciousness. The consciousness goes much deeper. The consciousness is a beginning point, and oftentimes something that affects the consciousness is at such a deep and inner level, it could take years for it to show up. But it all starts with the consciousness.

In this time period with so many people staying at home, having to go within themselves, having to be at home with their family members, when oftentimes they would try to escape it; working at home. When normally they'd trudge off to the office to their cubicles, to their midlevel managers' jobs, now they were at home, and it gave them time to ponder, to consider, "Is this really what I want in my life?" And, again, this is all happening at a deeper level of consciousness, not necessarily human thinking. There was human thinking to go with it, but there's something happening deep down underneath, kind of a whole shift that was taking place in the world.

In the last year while all that was happening, there were huge resources put into technology, as well as just about every other aspect of human life. Just about every aspect of human life was touched by an incident that was global, that wasn't a war.

You take a look at the technology advances that are going to come out, that are already coming out, by the way, already coming out. For instance, a new potential type of vaccination for malaria. You take a look at all the things that are going to come as a result of the coronavirus era and you're going to realize that this was an epic time, and you were here for it. You were here for it. Most of you didn't get all caught up in it. A few of you went this whole route of conspiracy on me, but most of you held your balance, held your own and realized and remembered this is why you were here, to be here at this time.

You're going to continue to see a rollout of not just technology, but new systems – systems that affect banking. I mean, there's a whole economic impact to this that hasn't even been seen yet on this planet. There has to be, because governments spent trillions of dollars, trillions and trillions of dollars keeping everything calm during this period. They were printing money like never before. Those printing presses were going day and night, in a manner of speaking, coming up with the money to fund it.

Now, of course, anything having to do with the economy has to be backed with something, something somewhere, so you're going to see the economic repercussions over the next at least 10 years, maybe 15 years of this. The repercussions are going to be, of course, things that you would dread, things like higher taxes, but they're going to get around that to a degree. Instead of just taxes, they're going to have something called levies. Levies, meaning it's a tax but it's not called a tax. It's put on everything from an article of clothing, to an automobile, to even how many kilometers you put on your car every year, to how loud you listen to your stereo. They'll be levies instead of taxes. They realize you really can't tax any more, so now they're going to find a different way to do it. They have to pay for all this, pay for the handouts that have been taking place.

Now, comes a question – is there going to be some sort of economic disaster? Should you build an underground bunker and be prepared for that? No, there will be some economic adjustments, one being the taxes and levies, but there'll be some economic adjustments. What you've seen here in these coronavirus days and the funding that went out to so many people, was the beginning of really a universal wage. It was the beginning of that, because in this time period, everybody got an allocation of money up to a certain point. If your income was too high, you didn't.

It'll be argued that this was one of the most successful measures for keeping the economy healthy, and that we continue with this, a universal basic wage or salary. Everybody across the board would get it to help even things out. Now, I'm not saying it's a good thing or a bad thing. It will provide some aid and assistance to people who could really use it. It will also help to perpetuate a state of not taking responsibility, an entitlement state. Not good or bad, it just is. And that's such an important point to make here.

In all of this that's happening all around you, please don't judge it as good or bad. Don't get into the conspiracies. The conspiracies will suck you down a rabbit hole, a rabbit hole that will be very, very hard to get out of. Stand behind the short wall. Observe what's going on in the world.

Observe what's going on in the economy. I'll go so far as to say basically you're going to be immune from all of that if you follow a few very simple things, like understanding the energy is all yours. The rest of the world could be going down kind of a dark bumpy path and it really won't affect you, other than you'll observe it and the energies of mass consciousness could affect you. But as far as your own finances, no, it doesn't need to.

So, you're going to see a lot of things happening with economic adjustments. Banks having to take some different routes for everything from loans to how savings are kept and accounted for. So, some very, very big changes occurring on the planet right now, and again I've mentioned all these in ProGnost. In medicine, huge changes as a result of all this.

So be prepared. Be ready for what comes next. Not in a frightened state or a fearful state at all. Be aware of what's coming next to this planet, because you can't go through a period like this, the coronavirus era, without major things happening as a result of it.

Some things will get back to normal. Some things will get back to what you would call normalcy, being able to go to a restaurant, of course, being in a crowded restaurant once again, a crowded noisy restaurant. Other things will never go back to the way they were, and one of the obvious things is the workplace environment. People are saying, "I don't need to go into an office anymore." Look what's been done virtually in the last year. I mean, appointments with doctors, appointments with lawyers, not having to go to the office every day. So that's a big adjustment, and some of you might say, "Well, it's not a great big deal." Individually, for you, maybe not, but when you consider the whole world doing that, the whole world making those changes, that is a tremendous, tremendous change in consciousness and the way things were going.

It'll get so many things out of old ruts without having to have something like a war or a huge natural disaster taking place. It was and continues to be a very effective way of moving to the next level for this planet and ultimately moving to the new human species.

So that's it, I won't go into a lot of detail. We talked about it in ProGnost and we'll mention it now and then, the changes that are happening on the planet, but just feel into that for a moment. Global changes that took place, that swept across the planet in one year of time – one year of time – and have changed so many things and have caused so many people to go inside themselves to say, "What is it I really choose? What is it I really desire as a human on the planet?"

Let's take a good deep breath with that and feel into it for a moment. It's unprecedented.

From where I am and from the other Ascended Master's perspective, we don't see things with our eyes. We remember what it's like to have eyes and ears, but we don't really look at things that way. We literally use our Entelligence, as I talk about in Master's Life 13. We feel into the energies of things, so it's not just based on what the eye sees, or the ear hears. And what we see is truly an unprecedented time on the planet, and not a sad time. It has been for some, but not a sad time. It's a time where, if you talk to the Ascended Masters, they're delighted by so many of the changes that are coming as a result of this.

And, yes, there are many, many people who died in this whole coronavirus. In a way, you could say; no, clearly – I had to correct Cauldre here – clearly, they were ready to go. It was no accident. And imagine the difference if it had been a war and millions of people dying in a war through trauma, through chaos, through the anger energy that is contained in a war and the powers that are in the energy of a war. When you have millions of people crossing over in this way, it's very, very different. Very different on what happens in the Near Earth realms. Very different too for their next incarnation. Oftentimes, they come in carrying those deep, deep wounds. Talk about post-traumatic stress disorder, it's when they carry it to another lifetime.

But in this case, there is not that kind of trauma associated with their leaving the planet. They'll come back with a much different kind of lifetime, if they choose to come back instead of going to one of the New Earths. They'll come back in a very different way as a result of it. So, again, in a way, yes, a lot of people died as a result of this, but in another way, it wasn't like the past where they died in deep trauma.

Shaumbra Realization

What about Shaumbra? What about Shaumbra through all this? And, where are we? Right now, there is just under 1,500 Shaumbra who have allowed their Realization. Now, there's some others who claim their Realization, but they actually don't believe it. They say the words, but they really don't believe it, so therefore, it almost can't occur. They're almost doing a positive affirmation, they're trying to convince themselves, but something deep underneath still is not convinced. So, while they're on the right path, they're not quite there yet.

You might say, "Well, only 1500? I thought we started out with well over, or just over a thousand. I thought we started with a fairly high number. Shouldn't we be at three, four, five thousand by now?" This is not a rush. We're not trying to race there. It's natural process that unfolds perfectly for each and every one of you. You're not behind the game if you haven't had your full Realization yet, because you're doing it in a way that's absolutely perfect for you. From the moment you say, "I choose Realization," it starts happening.

Now, oftentimes, there can be a lot of internal resistance on your part or not believing it or not allowing it or going too mental about it, but it will happen. It will happen in the perfect way. It'll roll out in the way that best serves you, so it doesn't overwhelm you, so that you get to have the sensual experience of being in your own coming to Realization. So that old layers of what you might call karma, old layers of wounds, old layers of guilt and shame are let go at the appropriate time.

Please don't try to rush through this. Once you make that clear choice within yourself as the human and say, "Yes, I'm ready for it," know that the Master, know that the I Am and know that all of your energy respond to it, and then it will become so. If you're going to do anything, if you want to work at this, it's take a lot of deep breaths and allow. But don't work at allowing, just allow, and then it comes. I can clearly tell you that I know pretty much the date of when it's going to happen. I'm not panicked about it. I'm not worried about it. Neither should you be. If you're feeling that you're maybe not one of the ones who's already realized, that there's something wrong with you, there's nothing wrong at all.

Also, we didn't want – we and you – didn't want everybody going into their Realization all at the same time. It's kind of like being done in waves with Shaumbra. It keeps things in balance. As one group goes in, it helps bring up another group, to help bring up another group. There's kind of an energetic design to it that's actually quite beautiful.

So, don't rush into it. Don't think that you're doing something wrong or you need to be doing something else or, worse yet, don't get doubtful or frustrated about it. Just allow it to happen. It's a very personal thing. Every one of the 1500 Shaumbra has done it in a different way, in a very personal, beautiful way, and the rest of you will have that as long as you allow.

Let's not race into it. It's called relaxing into Realization, not racing into it, and the best thing you can do for yourself right now is to enjoy or at least be aware of the experience that you're going through right now. That's the best thing, the very best thing. And then it takes a lot of the friction out of it. It takes the resistance out of it. That way you'll be able to more clearly see some of the things that might have been holding you back, some of the reasons you might have been actually holding back, and then choose whether you want to move beyond them or not.

As I look at Shaumbra – I loved working with Shaumbra again one-on-one, but we're together far more often than what I think you even realize – but as I take a look at Shaumbra, I would say one of the things that I was a little surprised about was so many Shaumbra are still mental, still thinking their way through everything, even their own Realization. Thinking too much about energy, rather than feeling energy. Thinking too much about the I Am. Literally I've seen some of you actually literally trying to map and diagram it out and create this spreadsheet of the I Am. You know, that's thinking and it's very limited. It might serve a little bit of a purpose, but ultimately, you're really kind of missing the point. It's feeling it. Feeling it.

In Master's Life 13 – Entelligence, we talk about how to go beyond the logic and the thinking, but as much as we can talk about it, it's still a big step. It still requires a lot of trust in yourself.

So, dear Shaumbra, I implore you to take a deep breath and stop trying to figure it all out here (points to head). This is a very natural thing. It's very natural that your Realization comes. You chose it, actually, a long time ago to have happen in this lifetime, and just the allowing is literally what will bring it into your reality.

You could say the Realization is already there. All the abundance of life is already there. But when you're trying to still micro-mental manage it, when you're still trying to figure it all out, you know, that's kind of a defensive play. When you're trying to figure it all out, like you need to still be in control of everything, well, it's that very control and that very limited logic that's gotten you into the bind that you've felt yourself in, the limitations.

What you're letting go to, what you're allowing is your Self, and perhaps that's one of the dilemmas. You're not even allowing, letting go to some higher being, to some God somewhere. Maybe that might be easier. You're letting go – I don't want to use the word “surrendering” – but you're letting go and allowing to your Self, to the human, to the Master, to your energy, to your I Am.

In our recent gathering here in Kona – Energy Works, now being called Kasama – I talked about the fact that your energy is your God. God is your energy. It's the thing you've been praying to. It's the thing you've been looking up to. It's the thing you've been hoping and counting on and sometimes doesn't seem to come through, but that's the God. It's your energy. It's all there – all of your potentials, all of the magic, everything – is right there in your energy. That's why I've been talking so adamantly in this last couple of years about energy. That's why we did so much work initially even with BON and then eventually coming into making the statement here in Hawaii that everything you see out there, everything you perceive, everything you experience is only your energy.

There's a big question, "Well, what about other people?" We'll get into that in an upcoming Master's Life, but right now, feel into it. It's all your own energy. It's the God you've been praying to, and it's your energy.

There's a tendency, yes, to go mental, and mental oftentimes is an excuse, an excuse that only is going to hurt physically, mentally, only going to delay the inevitable Realization. But having to think your way through every little iota of Realization or, you know, coming to your enlightenment is simply going to make it more stressful, cause more anxiety and really, more than anything, take away from the real purpose of you being here on the planet right now at the Time of Machines.

So, as I look out to Shaumbra, I see so many beautiful things. I see so many of what I would call the quiet Shaumbra having allowed their Realization. Quiet, meaning they might not have ever come to a workshop. They might not be involved in social media. They might not be the ones that have stood up in the past in a variety of different ways. They're the ones who have been quietly doing the work and allowing their Realization.

But, again, so many Shaumbra still thinking through it, still thinking about allowing, rather than truly allowing. And, again, it's not a race. It doesn't matter to me, but ultimately for yourself, just take a deep breath and allow and understand it's all natural and all coming from you.

Deep breath with that. Good deep breath.

Now on to the subject I really want to talk about here.

Reset of Consciousness

Right now, after this whole year of coronavirus on the planet, right now we're coming to a reset of consciousness on the planet. A reset of consciousness. I was actually going to talk about this in a special message from me, St. Germain, but it's coming a bit quicker than what was anticipated. So, there wouldn't really be time right now to get that filmed here in Hawaii and get it out. So, we're doing it today at the Shoud. A reset of consciousness and it's going to happen somewhere in the general timeframe between, what you would call, your Ides of March and St. Patrick's Day, coming up very, very soon at a planet near you.

And this isn't like going through the Photon Belt or anything like that. It's not like the whole planet is going to go dark for three days. Most people will never even notice that it took place, because the reset occurs at a very, very deep level, very, very deep level. But literally what's happening is consciousness is getting reset. And I guess an analogy would be like resetting your computer, rebooting it. It's kind of acting strange or it freezes up or things aren't going right and what do you do? You pull the plug out of the wall and you pray a little bit. You hope that it gets better, and then you plug it back in and oftentimes it reboots or resets itself.

Whatever was kind of goofy on the inside kind of gets cleaned up. It's kind of like that right now in the reset that we're going through with mass consciousness on this planet.

It's been a year of a lot of changes, a lot of chaos, a lot of inner discoveries, a lot of new directions for the planet. It's been a year when many, many have sat for hours in their homes rather than getting distracted by outer activity and, not thinking it, but feeling it, "What do I really want? What do I really feel?" Ultimately, yes, they ask questions like, "What do I really want to do for a job? Do I really want to be with my mate or partner?" But there's been something deeper happening and that's causing this reset of human consciousness coming sometime between March 14th, March 17th, give or take a day or two.

I'd like to ask each and every one of you to feel in during those days to what's going on and not on the surface, not just what you're reading in the newspapers or not what you see necessarily happening around you. But feel into it. It's a reset, a huge reset of global consciousness. Then you'll start really seeing the results of that reset coming, I would say starting in about the June time period and going forward for many, many years to come.

Resets can often be traumatic. Resets can be times when people freak out. But enough work with the consciousness of humans has been done and there's enough Ascended Masters back embodied on the planet, as well now as realized humans, that this reset doesn't have to be like the planet going dark for three days. The reset can be much calmer. Some people will have a very difficult time with it, but others will just kind of accept it and go along with it. I'll get into the specifics later about what the reset actually does, but I really want every one of you to feel into that as it occurs. It's unprecedented on the planet ever to have a global reset. Even the times of Atlantis didn't have it happening all in one general timeframe.

The reset is going to have an ultimate impact on everything on the planet. It's going to be helping to redefine systems of every kind. And, yes, this started even prior to the coronavirus. The coronavirus helped to bring it together, and now it's happening. Now, it's absolutely happening on the planet. Here we are.

You came here to be here for this at the Time of Machines. You came here to be one who helps then to shine the potentials. As people reset and they wonder what next, what's available to them, what direction to take in their lives, how to connect with their own spirit or spirituality, as they would call it, they're going to be looking for that, and that's, again, why you're here on the planet.

Feel into the reset as it happens. Feel deep into it because, again, it's not going to be on the surface, and then watch what happens as a result of that in these times to come forward.

I'll probably be doing more special messages for, oh, the rest of the year based on it. And, again, fear not. Fear not at all. It's not about that. It's not about terrible things happening, and even if there are some difficult things for the planet, you're not necessarily going to have to endure that. You're in a different place. You're in your energy, rather than in mass consciousness.

The reset in consciousness is going to have effects, for instance, even on the planet, on nature. Gaia, Mother Earth, has been slowly packing her bags and getting ready to leave, and now that whole process is going to be accelerated, absolutely accelerated.

The whole understanding of what you call energy on the planet, fuel source energy, is going to be changing in this reset. That's one of the biggest dilemmas the planet's been facing and really the parallel between one's own energy and the energy of the planet are very similar. The planet is going to be discovering more and more about what energy actually is.

So, feel into this huge reset. We might have a few special gatherings just to feel into it. But now on to the even more important point that I want to make on this special Shoud day.

It CAN Be Done

There is so much more out there. There's so much more everywhere. There's so much more to yourself, and it's easy to get caught in limitations of past lifetimes, mass consciousness, the way things have always been done, science and physics. It's very easy to get caught into all that and then impose those limitations on yourself. That's not why you're here.

Now is the time for each and every one of you to be the Merlin I Am.

Some might say that, "Well, the expectations are now so high that you can time travel. The expectations are so high that you're just going to be wealthy and abundant without really having to work on it. The expectations are high that we're all going to be having this Free Energy Body," whatever that happens to be. The expectations are high that your body learns to heal itself. The expectations that there is magic, that there is fantasy and all the rest of this. So, there are some that are going to say, "Let's hold back the expectations, because we don't want disappointment. Maybe this is all some big fantasy, some big game anyway. So, let's be realistic," some will say, "about our expectations on this," and I say absolutely not. You're not here to compromise. You're not here to hold back. You're not here to pander to your own fears that these things may not happen, and now is the time for us to go full blast into it.

It can be done. It can be done and in my lifetime as St. Germain I proved it to myself and probably to others. You don't have to have a job to be wealthy. You can go beyond the way the mind learns, learning whether it's mathematics or music. You can go beyond that.

You can be in a space of your own healing, your own healing, without even having to rely on medicine or you can if you want, but your own healing. Now is not the time to say, "Well, let's temper back on all this for the expectations." Quite the opposite. The ones who are coming after you want to know that it worked, want to know that you were able to transcend the limitations of the 3D human reality and truly become Masters on the planet.

I look sometimes into the doubt that is within you as individuals and you as a group of Shaumbra, and, yes, the doubt is there. I'm not trying to say the doubt shouldn't be or won't be. It's absolutely there. The doubt tends to hold you back and say, "Maybe we shouldn't try this. Maybe we should be more cautious about what we're doing. Maybe we shouldn't talk in such grandiose terms," but that would not be the truth. That would not be the truth.

Granted, we're going beyond limits of physics and of modern science. We're going beyond what most humans would ever even dream about, and then they dream about it, but they would never actually bring it into reality. We're going way beyond all of that. But if you're holding back, if you're saying, "Let's limit," if you're saying that we're creating unrealistic expectations, then it won't happen.

You'll stumble at times as an individual or as a group of Shaumbra. There may be things that don't work out right away the first time. But we're going to get back in there and we're going to allow it once again. We're going to realize what kept us from it, what the resistance was, and we're going to get back in there and do it, whether it's wealth, whether it's health, whether it's time travel, whether it's any of these things that we talk about.

This is why you came here, and I don't want you to diminish any of that. You could say it's a time of fantasy, and that's absolutely correct. We're going beyond where human consciousness has been in the past. Some have done it as individuals, the Ascended Masters. There's never been a group that's done it before. You're doing it individually as your own sovereign Self, but there are others who are walking a similar path at the same time. That's why I say there's never been a group that's doing it. We're not doing it holding hands and singing kumbaya. You're doing it individually but knowing that others on the planet, most of whom you've shared lifetimes with, are doing it at the same time.

We're transcending. We're transcending a limitation, that's all. We're not transcending hard physics, because physics, no matter what kind of physics, aren't hard to begin with. I mean, they aren't solid, unchangeable. They are changeable, and what changes them is consciousness. Consciousness is the very thing that changes physics and science and math and everything, and that's what we're doing.

I'm asking you to dream big, to imagine big. I'm asking you to live big, simply by changing your consciousness, taking off any blinders or limitations, realizing the energy is yours. That's really one of the first steps. Once you realize this is your energy – it's full, it's abundant, it can do anything, it can defy the laws of physics, it can do anything – then you'll realize none of this is impossible. None of this is done by plotting and planning through the mind, because the mind will keep you in the limitations. It will keep you in mass consciousness.

As we come to this global reset coming up very, very soon, now is a wonderful time to come back into yourself and take a look at where you want to go with your consciousness, not holding back, being the Merlin I Am, ready to go forth into a whole new stratum, ready to go forth into a whole new type of reality and into the And, staying here on the planet, living with mass consciousness limitations, but now a truly sovereign being.

There is no fantasy too large. There are no dreams too big for us right now. And, yes, the human mind might be sending out all sorts of caution signals saying, "Don't set that expectation. Remember when you've gotten hurt before. Remember when you've disappointed yourself before," but you were using a whole different way to try to move to the next level than you are right now. Right now, you're using your energy and your consciousness and that's the big difference. Before you were using your mind and somebody else's energy. The big difference, your mind and someone else's energy in the past, but now it is your energy and your consciousness.

This is perhaps – how do I say, the most critical point – but one of the most important moments of transition for the planet and also for you and for Shaumbra. One of the times when we make, yet again, that quantum leap, going beyond any limitations. Even if the rules in the gamebook say, “No you can’t do that,” we’re going to do it. Even if past experience says, “Look what happened last time you tried that, you made a fool of yourself and, well, you killed yourself at the same time,” we’re going to go beyond that.

Sitting here in the Shaumbra Pavilion when we were doing our most recent gathering, sitting here, there came the question, “What if this is all made up? What if it’s all a game? What if it’s all just a huge distraction that’s taking place right now, none of it being real?” What if? What if? I mean, we don’t have any other group we can look to and say, “Well, they did it, so it can be done.” We have individuals, but, you know, most of them are on the other side as Ascended Masters and most of them it happened to a long time ago. But what if we’re just making it all up?

My contention is that that works just fine, because when you enter an empty dark space, when you enter a nothingness, when your consciousness goes into that nothingness, if nobody’s ever been there before, done the same thing, it doesn’t matter, because then it becomes so. That is the way consciousness works. Even if all this is just a big pipe dream, even if we’ve just been sitting around the campfire and singing kumbayas and getting ourselves all excited about something that is not true, it doesn’t matter, because once we enter into that void where others, where you haven’t gone before, it’s not an empty room. It becomes whatever your consciousness desires.

Now is the time to allow fantasy and magic, the Merlin I Am. Now is the time to realize there are no limits. There are no barriers. There’s nothing holding us back. Yes, in the physical and mental level, there will be adjustments that take place responding to the consciousness, responding to the new reality that you’re going in, that we’re all going in. But right now, right now, my dear friends, let’s do what we came here to do.

I’ll continue to guide you. I’ll continue to distract you when needed, to give you information and to hopefully open the feelings, the sensory part of you and your consciousness. But let’s go forward to do exactly what we came here to do.

We have a huge opportunity coming up very, very soon, this planetary reset. I call it the coronavirus reset, because the coronavirus created the opportunity and now the perfect bed. The coronavirus created this perfect bed, this setting for this global consciousness reset to occur.

Let’s be here for that, and at the same time a reset in yourself, in terms of not holding back, not limiting, not saying, “Well, let’s do it partway.” It’s all or nothing. That’s my way – all or nothing – and I hope you join me in it.

It Is Time - Merabh

With that, let’s bring this all together with a merabh, with a little music in the background to really integrate, to absorb what we’ve just talked about.

(music begins)

Some may drop out. Some may say, “Well, this is too much fantasy. I’ve got to pay the bills. I’ve got people to take care of,” and that’s fine if they drop out. You’ll be back. You’ll be back. When you see others have done it, you’ll be back, and there’ll be no shame either. There’ll be no shame or judgment.

We've got about 1500 realized Masters on the planet from Shaumbra. Many more to come. There's never been an opportunity like this right now to open up the realms, to break free of so many limitations that have occurred in human consciousness.

Some say, "You know, it's all fiction. Let's stick to the facts. Let's stick to data."

No. There's so much more out there, and you know it. That's the thing. You know it. We talked about that in our last Shoud. You already know.

It's time right now that individually and then as a group and then eventually as a planet that we go into the new realms, that we go into what I've often called the Atlantean Dream.

On one hand, it sounds very difficult. We're basically going to change the physics of everything that's ever been known. It sounds a bit challenging. But on the other hand, it can be a very, very easy step.

You may worry and wonder are you just going crazy? But as I've said before, what is crazy? Is crazy staying in the same house lifetime after lifetime with the same rooms and the same windows and the same food in the refrigerator and the same everything, the same day, day after day after day. Is that sane?

Then what's crazy? Going for what you know is there, but perhaps you've come to doubt it? Going for what lies on the other side of the rainbow while everybody on this side of the rainbow says, "Don't do it. You're nuts. You're crazy. There's nothing over the rainbow. It's just a rainbow."

Dear Shaumbra, I'm going to mark this day, this Shoud as that point we're coming up to what I thought actually would be a little bit, in a month or two later, this huge restart of human consciousness. And I ask, are you ready for this next step?

Oh, it can be very exciting, yes. Fearful, heh. Some of you have been feeling tremendous anxiety lately – some of you always feel tremendous anxiety, but lately a lot of extra anxiety – wondering what's going on. Well, now you know.

Now you know the pressure that the planet is facing and the pressure that you're facing. I consider it an exciting time. I'm thrilled. I go back to the Ascended Masters Club and I dance around that ballroom like an Ascended Master!

I'm so excited about what's happening. I'm even appreciative of the coronavirus. It caused tremendous changes on the planet. We're coming out of that now, pretty much coming out of it. Took a little bit longer in some respects, but it did more than I would have ever really felt that the planet was capable of.

It's on its way out. There'll be little pockets of it here and there, but then – poof! – it'll just finally all evaporate away. And as that evaporates away, it'll reveal what has come during this period, during this time, and maybe you'll begin to understand the role you played in it.

You didn't need to get the virus in order to play the role. The role was being here. The role is realizing it's time to expand the realm of the human.

Let's go for it – fantasy, magic, ease and grace, and regular everyday human life as well – because there are some very beautiful things about it. Let's do both of it.

All that are ready to go forward, all that are ready to now move into this unimaginable, unbelievable potential as you live your human life on the planet, let's go.

All of you who aren't so sure, you want to hold back, you want to do it so you don't set yourself up for disappointment, that's fine. No problem there.

But I know there's enough of you that say, "No. Now we're not going to hold back. Even if we're diving off the cliff into a deep, dark bottomless abyss, our consciousness will change that abyss the moment that it's there into ..." whatever you choose.

Let's take a deep breath for the times we're in, for the upcoming reset, for All That Is.

Let's take a good deep breath and give yourself thanks for being here at this time.

With that, remember that as crazy, as farfetched, as unimaginable as the places we're going to go, that all is well in all of creation.

With that, I Am Adamus and St. Germain.
