

ANGELS

ANGELS are entities who are assigned to assist with the development and the maintenance of planet earth up until such point as humans could take responsibility for it themselves.

ANGELS had a direct commitment to THE ORDER OF THE ARC to take a certain responsibility on earth. and then they were basically given priority to incarnate when the time was right, because there are many, many beings waiting to incarnate here.

ANGELS are here to serve you. they're not your masters. they are not your gurus. they are here to help enhance your experience on this planet.

the DARK ANGELS, their time is coming to an end.

they are beginning to understand that all beings are of light. they are beginning to understand that even at the core of all things, light and dark have come together.

it is the beginning of the end of duality >.

there's no negotiating with a dark angel.

they have the same potential for sovereignty as you do, same potential to merge the light and the dark as you do.

ALIENS

an ALIEN really doesn't have any energetic connection with earth or with the order of the arc. they are generally breakaway groups from your spiritual families who wanted to go out on their own. and that's fine. there's no negative thing in that, but they're trying to develop in a different way. but, in my opinion, there's no way better than the way of this planet earth.

HUMANS and EARTH

I say that the grandest place in all of creation is EARTH. and HUMANS forget that. they think that there is these grand intelligent beings out there. they even give their power away to these beings.

there is no grander being in all of creation than the HUMAN BEING, than you, and you, and each and every one of you. there is nothing more glorious than to be a HUMAN. there is no being in all of creation wiser and more filled with love than a HUMAN. there is no being who has put themselves through more difficulty and challenge than a HUMAN, all in an effort to discover the god within.
